) CASE NO. 2:21-cv-3088

) Judge Marbley

) Magistrate Judge Deavers

) Motion to Intervene

) Fed. R. Civ. P. 24(b)

Now comes nonparty Kelly Patrick, respectfully submitting this Motion to Intervene for the limited purpose of addressing this Court for three (3) minutes on Friday, January 28, 2022.

BACKGROUND

InsideTheMind.net is a true crime website operated by the Proposed Intervenor, whose former husband, John Patrick is the brother of Senior Assistant Ohio Attorney General Daniel Kasaris. Over the past decade and a half, the proposed intervenor has amassed significant evidence that documents criminal activities by John Patrick and Daniel Kasaris. Moreover, the wife of Daniel Kasaris, Susan Kasaris, discovered Dan Kasaris was having a romantic relationship with government witness Kathryn Clover, and threw Daniel Kasaris out of the family home on Beckenham – then discussed the affair, Daniel Kasaris' sex and alcohol addiction and other misdeeds in a series of Facebook posts over the course of a year, Exhibit A.

InsideTheMnd.net began exposing misconduct by Patrick and Kasaris, including

- A cover up of John Patrick's domestic abuse and drug growing operation by the City of North Olmsted

- The creation of Special Needs Trusts on behalf of one of many Daniel Kasaris paramours, Kelly Connors, who cannot spend any money without approval of Daniel Kasaris,
- Other wrongdoing by John Patrick and Daniel Kasaris was exposed on the InsideTheMind.net website, while public records requests and interactions with a private investigator further assisted the Proposed Intervenor develop a series of blogs on her website.

Like the Plaintiff in the instant matter, the Proposed Intervenor was also threatened with prosecution for posting blogs and making public key documents. The Proposed Intervenor was also threatened with prosecution if she continued making public records requests or otherwise interacted with governmental officials, Exhibit B Like the Plaintiff, the undersigned asked Defendant Daniel Kasaris and Defendant Damian Billak to identify under what authority they were operating under, and to pinpoint specific statements on the InsideTheMind.Net website that were inaccurate or false. No reply has been forthcoming, promoting a First Amendment suit in the Northern District of Ohio, Patrick v. Kasaris et. al., (1:21-cv-01155), Ohio Northern District Court.

ARGUMENT

The Proposed Intervenor has a protected legal interest in the outcome of these proceedings, and the request to address the Court will provide additional information this Court may wish to consider as it adjudicates this matter.

I. Applicable Law of Intervention

Intervenor petitions the Court for permissive intervention pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 24(b). Pursuant to Purnell v. Akron, 925 F.2d 941, 950 (6th Cir. 1991) (citing NAACP v. New York, 413 U.S. 345, 365–66 (1973)), when considering permissive intervention, the Court should consider whether “the intervention will unduly delay or prejudice the adjudication of the rights of the original parties.” Id. at 951. For the reasons that follow, the Court should grant Intervenor’s permissive intervention in this case.

II. The Motion to Intervene Is Timely

This action has not progressed beyond the pleading stage and discovery has not commenced. Accordingly, the proposed intervention is timely, and will not prejudice any party, United States v. Tennessee, 260 F.3d 587, 592 (6th Cir. 2001) (quoting Jansen v. City of Cincinnati, 904 F.2d 336, 340 (6th Cir. 1990)).

III. The Intervenor's Meet The Requirement Of Permissive Intervention To Show At Least One Common Question of Law or Fact With The Existing Defendants

The Court should permit the Intervenor Applicants to intervene permissively pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 24(b). Here, the Intervenor “alleges at least one common question of law or fact.” United States v. Michigan, 424 F.3d 438, 445 (6th Cir. 2005) (citing Michigan State AFLCIO v. Miller, 103 F.3d 1240, 1248 (6th Cir. 1997)), and thus should be permitted to intervene.

The Plaintiff in this case argue that his First Amendment rights are being chilled, and the Proposed Intervenor has a similar claim, and her claims result from similar threats of prosecution by the same defendants.

IV. The Intervenor's Ability To Protect Their Interest May Be Impaired In The Absence of Intervention

The proposed intervenor's legal position in a similar case would be bolstered if this Court finds that the Defendants violated the Plaintiff's First Amendment rights. Likewise, any finding adverse to the Plaintiff would impact claims made by the Proposed Intervenor. “To satisfy this element of the intervention test, a would-be intervenor must show only that impairment of its substantial legal interest is possible if intervention is denied. This burden is minimal.” Grutter v. Bollinger, 188 F.3d 394, 399 (6th Cir. 1999)

V. This Court May Benefit from Hearing from the Proposed Intervenor

Because the hearing on January 28th is before the Court, and not a jury, there is no risk of any prejudice to any party to the claim. In fact, this Court may wish to consider a brief statement from the undersigned, which would provide insight into the actions of the Defendants in this matter.

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, the Court should grant the Intervenor Applicants' Motion to Intervene, as permissive intervenors, for the limited purpose of addressing this Court for three (3) minutes on January 28, 2022.

Oct 7, 2016, 12:47 PM

Kelly Patrick

Agreed. However I don't think either of them would listen to Pat. I know John wouldn't. He doesn't talk to her or help her at all. She came up a few weeks ago and we talked for 2 hrs at Brayden's football game. She knows John has issues but she can't say anything. Everyone shunned me when I brought up all this stuff years ago. Julie was the worst.

Crazy is what I've always heard. Your family is fucked up they say. He isn't attracted to you, he thinks you're fat and lazy. He thinks you're not a good mom, isn't sexually attracted to you. Had to find another girl to see if the problem was him or you, turns out he said it was you. He is better off without you he would say. Blames you for the girls not wanting to be around him, at the time he left.
